A Support Group for Families of Children with Hearing Loss

Triad Hitch-Up is a parent-run group intended to support the families of children with hearing loss in the North Carolina Triad area, in a relaxed and family-centered environment. Through monthly meetings, invited speakers, and regular social gatherings, we strive to provide informational, emotional, and social support to maximize the potential of children with hearing loss. In addition, we hope to be an outlet through which children with all degrees of hearing loss, and their siblings, parents and extended families can meet and spend time with others in similar situations. Triad Hitch-Up welcomes and actively supports families and children with hearing loss regardless of their chosen mode of communication.
